

The UH Center for Mexican American Studies Presents its Annual Spring Conference

¡Mexico Hoy!

*Economic Dependency,
Social Inequality and
Political Resistance in a
Globalized World*

(see agenda on the back)

April 17-18, 2008

8:30 A.M. – 5:00 P.M.

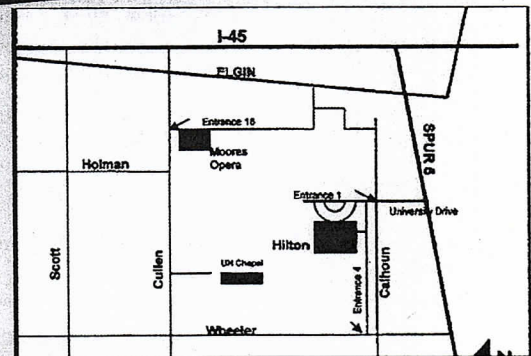

University of Houston-Hilton Hotel

Shamrock Room

4800 Calhoun Rd.

Houston, Texas 77004

Entrance 1 (off of Calhoun Rd.)

The "Mexico Hoy" Conference will analyze the economic, political, social and ecological conditions and dynamics facing Mexico, particularly in light of its economic and political ties with the United States. What this means for the future of Mexico and its people will be a major focus of the conference.

For more information call 713-743-3133 or visit us @ www.class.uh.edu/cmas

FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC